The Phaidon Atlas of 21st Century World Architecture

Phaidon Editors

- The only resource of its kind, The Phaidon Atlas of 21st Century World Architecture contains, in a single volume, over 1,000 of the most outstanding works of architecture built since 2000
- Features the work of internationally acclaimed architects alongside that of the next generation of emerging architectural stars and those currently unknown outside their own countries
- Includes every imaginable building type, from the smallest single houses, cafes and wineries to the largest museums, airports and embassies
- Each project has been selected by an expert panel with input from specialist advisors in every geographical region
- Contains specially commissioned maps and graphic data (researched by a team from the London School of Economics) that interpret and explore architecture's global contexts
- Extensive indexes enable easy cross-referencing and comparison of data, and provide additional information on architects
- This essential addition to any architecture library is a remarkable resource that presents an unparalleled level of data on contemporary architectural practice
